After losing her mother to lung cancer, Melissa Morgan decided to finally quit smoking after 20 years.

Melissa Morgan of Healing Laser Clinics

She was unsuccessful in the past with patches, hypnotherapy, welbutrin, Smoke-away and trying to quit “cold turkey”. She heard of a clinic in South Florida that offered laser treatments to quit smoking, and although very skeptical, went to the clinic with her boyfriend, Mark.

Mark, another smoker of 20 years was also extremely skeptical about the treatment. Melissa and Mark walked out of the clinic 45 minutes later and have never had a cigarette since.

Mark called his father, Ken, a smoker of 44 years about the treatment and recommended that he fly to Florida and be treated. Ken flew down later that month and stopped smoking immediately after treatment. They were all so impressed with their results that they spent all of their spare time studying laser therapy and nutrition.

Soon after, they opened the clinic in Lake Mary.

On opening day, Melissa dedicated the clinic to the memory of her mother, Judy Morgan.

The clinic has been treating people for smoking cessation and weight loss ever since. Mark, Melissa and Ken love to help other smokers finally kick the habit and they have a sincere understanding of what the smokers are going through and how to help them with Low level laser Therapy.

How Laser Therapy Works

LLLT is the application of a “cold” pure laser to treat certain conditions. it has been used to successfully treat many kinds of musculoskeletal injuries because it promotes healing and tissue repair. This therapy has been used in Europe and Canada for over 30 years and is now being introduced in the United States.

Low Level Laser Therapy is currently approved by the FDA to treat carpal tunnel syndrome and is now under clinical trials by the FDA to determine it's effectiveness for treating smoking addiction by promoting the release of endorphins in the body. Endorphins are natural chemicals in your body that reduce stress and increase energy.

During a low level laser session, the cold laser is pointed at specific locations on your ears, face, hands and wrist. You may feel a slight tingling sensation, but most clients feel a calm sensation or absolutely nothing at all. It typically only takes 1 treatment to end your addiction but a free follow up treatment is offered.

Healing Laser Clinics takes smoking very seriously and will do everything in our power to help you break the habit.
